TOGETHER, WE ARE HELPING CHILDREN STEP INTO THE FUTURE GOD HAS FOR THEM—RESTORED, LOVED, AND WHOLE.

At Kids Alive, many of the children we serve have carried heavy messages of shame, fear, and rejection because of their past. Healing from trauma begins when they discover the truth of who they are in Christ—loved, valued, and made new.

That's why we teach Core Identity Statements—simple truths rooted in Scripture that we repeat, model, and live out with the kids in our care. Our staff also learn to embrace and practice these truths personally, so they can pour from a place of healing and strength. And we'd love for you, our partners, to join us in this too—seeing yourself through God's eyes with these same statements. Together, we can build a foundation of belonging, worth, and hope for children and for ourselves.

I Am Chosen

God sees me, knows me, and wants me.
(John 15:16)

I Am God's Masterpiece

I am created with beauty, value, and purpose.
(Eph. 2:10)

I Am God's Child

I belong to a loving Father who delights in me. (John 1:12)

Because of your partnership, children around the world are not only finding safety and care but also discovering a new identity—rooted in God's truth and filled with hope for tomorrow. Thank you for helping them replace lies with life and step into the future God has for them.

I Am Clean

Through Jesus, I am forgiven and made new.
(1 John 1:9)

I Am Powerful

In Christ, I have strength for today and hope for the future. (Phil. 4:13)

CELEBRATING WHAT GOD IS DOING

Because of You

Dear Friends,

As I reflect on the first half of 2025, I am filled with gratitude for what God is doing through Kids Alive — and for the vital part you play in this story. Together, we are helping children around the world replace lies with God's truth and step into a new identity as His chosen, loved, and treasured sons and daughters.

This Mid-Year Impact Update is full of evidence of that transformation. You'll read stories of children who once carried wounds of rejection, trauma, or fear, now discovering that they are chosen, God's masterpiece, His children, clean, and powerful in Christ. These identity statements are not just words — they are anchors of healing, and your partnership makes it possible for them to take root in young hearts.

Across our programs — Restorative Education, Protective Care, Family Strengthening, and Justice Advocacy — we see children experiencing brighter futures. Through these, we pursue our four global goals: that every child would enjoy a vibrant relationship with God, experience emotional and physical well-being, be equipped for independence and service, and live life in family and community free of fear and violence.

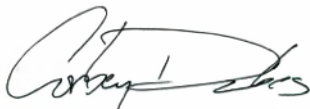

From Lebanon to Guatemala, Kenya to Peru, Zambia to Haiti and the Dominican Republic, the stories in this report show the fruit of your prayers and generosity. Alex found belonging. Patrick discovered strength and hope. Tamara experienced healing and courage. Yale stepped into his God-given purpose. Sana found joy after deep loss. Daniel and Mateo found the love of family. And Mia discovered she is never alone.

This is the work of justice that heals and bonds that mend.

And it is only possible because you continue to walk alongside us with faith, generosity, and love.

On behalf of the children, families, and staff around the world, thank you for believing that every child deserves to know they are cherished, created with purpose, and filled with hope in Christ. Together, we are changing stories and transforming futures.

With gratitude,

Corbey Dukes

President & CEO, Kids Alive International

GoTeams

TOGETHER ON MISSION:

Go Teams in Action

From January through June 2025, Kids Alive has sent 35 Go Teams, mobilizing nearly 400 volunteers through 20 partner organizations to serve alongside our staff across the globe.

These trips bring encouragement, energy, and blessing to the children in our programs while strengthening long-term partnerships. Many teams are made up of students from churches or Christian schools, giving young people hands-on mission experience. A growing trend has also been parent-child teams—like the father-son and mother-daughter groups from Wheaton Christian Grammar School who served at four sites in the Dominican Republic. These experiences create lasting memories and spark spiritual growth for both generations.

"It is absolutely amazing! The relationships you build and the way the Lord works through your own life during the trip is so special. This enables you to see God use His children and the body to work together to defend the defenseless and advance the kingdom."

Reagan Froelich, Go Team Member

"Kids Alive Guatemala has taken great care to consider and adapt to all the needs of the children at Oasis. They are a model of humanitarian and evangelistic work perfectly paired for the glory of God and the benefit of His creation."

Abigail Daniel, Go Team Member

A Song of Joy:

MVPC'S MUSIC & DANCE CAMP AT PALO BLANCO IN THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

For more than 20 years, Go Teams from Moraga Valley Presbyterian Church (MVPC) have been a faithful presence at Kids Alive sites in the Dominican Republic and Peru. Since sending their first team in 2010, they've returned 27 times—20 to the DR and 7 to Peru—building lasting friendships, encouraging staff, and blessing children far beyond a single trip.

This summer, a group of MVPC high school students and adults brought something special to Palo Blanco School: a week-long music and dance camp. The team included a worship leader, ballet dancers, and several musicians. Using the gifts God gave them, they designed activities that reflected their passions—teaching scales on the recorder, leading worship songs, guiding ballet lessons, acting out Bible skits, and even helping children build their own drums. Each afternoon, classrooms rang with music, laughter, and joy. The week concluded with a lively performance for classmates, parents, and neighbors—a celebration of creativity and community. Team leader Stacy shared, “My highlight of the week was the final performance—watching the kids all be so proud of what they learned and seeing them perform.”

For many of these children, access to music and instruments is rare. This camp opened the door to new passions and gave them a chance to discover talents they never knew they had.

But perhaps the greatest gift of MVPC's decades of service is the deep, ongoing relationships. Returning team members greet children they sponsor as Student Champions, reconnect with former students, and encourage staff they've served alongside year after year. These bonds remind children that they are part of a global family that truly knows and loves them.

The week also reflected the beauty of the Body of Christ working across cultures. “I benefited by working with the Palo team and creating something special for the kids with Spanish and English speakers,” Stacy reflected. Even with language barriers, God provided understanding, unity, and shared joy as the team and staff served side by side.

In addition to the camp, the team helped with construction projects, listened to student testimonies, and poured encouragement into teachers and staff. These moments, woven together, form more than just a week’s impact—they are a testimony to God’s faithfulness through long-term partnership.

To our friends at Moraga Valley: ¡Gracias! Your decades of presence have left a lasting mark on Palo Blanco School, and we are deeply grateful for the partnership God has brought.

CHAMPION UPDATE

YOU ARE HELPING SHAPE CHAMPIONS For Tomorrow

Every child deserves to know they are seen, supported, and full of potential. Through our Student Champion and Safe Haven Champion programs, donors like you are walking alongside children around the world—ensuring they have access to education, safety, loving care, and the opportunity to grow in faith.

Because of You, Esther is Bringing Healing & Hope to Others

Because of you, children are growing up with the support and encouragement they need to discover who they are in Christ. Esther's story shows the incredible ripple effect your partnership creates.

As a young girl, Esther was welcomed into the Student Champion program at Kids Alive Haiti. Through consistent love, education, and spiritual nurture, she not only came to know Jesus but also grew in confidence and purpose. "I knew how to go to church before, but I didn't know who Jesus was," she remembers. "It was after joining Kids Alive that I met Him and accepted Him as my personal Savior."

With her Champions walking beside her, Esther completed high school in 2017 and pursued her dream of becoming a nurse. After years of perseverance, she graduated in 2022—and just a year later, she returned to serve with Kids Alive Haiti, this time as staff. Today, she provides medical care to children and families while sharing the same love of Christ that once transformed her own life.

This year, new Champions are joining us in bringing light and hope to children who might otherwise feel forgotten. With your partnership and advocacy, we can ensure every student is fully supported—reminding them they are seen, valued, and not alone.

"Kids Alive allowed me to realize my dream of being a nurse and also to succeed in my life," Esther says with gratitude.

Because of you, Esther's journey has come full circle. A girl once needing care is now a woman offering it—proof that when you champion a child, lives are changed for generations. Because of you, children are growing up with the support and encouragement they need to discover who they are in Christ. Esther's story shows the incredible ripple effect your partnership creates.

Alex Found Belonging and New Life in Christ

*pseudonym for safety

Alex's* childhood carried more heartache than any child should endure. His parents divorced when he was very young, and he was told that his mother had passed away—leaving him to grow up believing she was gone forever. When he visited his father on weekends, the house never felt like home. Many times, Alex spent long hours sitting outside on the stairs, unwanted and unseen. For 15 years, he lived with the ache of loss and rejection.

But when Alex came to Kids Alive Lebanon, Dar El Awlad, he discovered something new—safety, care, and a place where he was wanted. At Dar El Awlad, Alex found staff who believed in him, mentors who guided him, and a family of boys who became his brothers. Here, he began to understand what it means to be loved and valued, no matter his past.

*"I believe in Jesus and He is my Savior.
I've chosen life
with Him."*

Now Alex is pouring back into others—mentoring younger boys and modeling resilience, faith, and hope. His story shows what happens when justice begins to heal the wounds of rejection and new bonds of love and belonging are formed. This is the kind of transformation your support makes possible.

Because of your support, children like Alex discover belonging in Christ, healing from trauma, and purpose for their future. You are helping rewrite stories—from pain to purpose, from rejection to belonging.

BECAUSE OF YOU

Patrick Found Hope and a Future

For Patrick*, childhood often meant going without—without meals, without school supplies, and without the steady love of a parent. After losing his mother, the person he depended on most, his father walked away, leaving Patrick and his siblings behind. His grandmother stepped in with courage and love, but with limited resources and failing health, she struggled to meet even his basic needs.

*pseudonym for safety

Everything began to change when Patrick was enrolled at Kids Alive's Hall Mead School in Kenya. Here he found more than an education—he discovered safety, daily meals, emotional care, and spiritual support. Through Restorative Education and holistic programs focused on good health, spiritual growth, and family strengthening, Patrick began to flourish.

With therapy, consistent encouragement, and opportunities to grow in his faith, Patrick's healing journey took root. His teachers saw his confidence grow, his academic performance improve, and his joy return. He made new friends and is now actively participating in spiritual activities, learning to place his trust in God.

Today, Patrick dreams of becoming a teacher so that he can inspire others the same way he has been inspired. His grandmother, still facing challenges, says she no longer feels alone—because the Kids Alive team continues to walk alongside them with encouragement, home visits, and support.

Patrick's story shows what happens when justice begins to heal wounds of neglect and new bonds of belonging are formed. Because of your support, he has moved from despair to hope, from isolation to purpose. He is no longer walking alone—and his future is filled with possibility.

BECAUSE OF YOU

Tamara Found Safety and Courage

When Tamara* came to Kids Alive Zambia at just eight years old, she was deeply wounded. While her mother was hospitalized, Tamara suffered sexual abuse at the hands of the very person who should have protected her—her father. The trauma left her withdrawn, tearful, and afraid.

*pseudonym for safety

But when Tamara arrived at Kids Alive, everything began to change. She was welcomed into a place of safety where she could begin to heal. Through consistent therapy, group counseling, and encouragement from caring staff, she slowly regained her voice and her confidence. As part of her healing journey, the Kids Alive team walked closely with her through the difficult legal process, preparing her for court and helping her understand her role. When the time came, Tamara courageously told the truth—bringing accountability and justice.

Today, Tamara is thriving. She is back in school, doing well academically, and surrounded by friends who remind her she is not alone. She is rediscovering what it means to be cherished, chosen, and deeply loved. Soon she will be reunited with her mother and siblings, this time with renewed hope and a foundation for the future.

Tamara's journey is a powerful reminder of how justice that heals begins with safety, truth, and love. Because of your support, children like Tamara find protection, healing from trauma, and the courage to believe in brighter days ahead.

BECAUSE OF YOU

Yale's Life Was Built on a Foundation of Faith and Purpose

Yale was just four years old when he arrived at Casa Monte Plata, one of Kids Alive's protective care programs in the Dominican Republic. "It was a really rainy day," he remembers. "It felt dark and tense to me, like something heavy was happening." That heaviness reflected his early childhood—years marked by grief and instability after losing his mother and living with a father who could not safely care for him.

He recalls one night when, alone with his baby brother, “The house wasn’t secure,” he says. “I just kept crying.”

When his father released him and his brother into protective care, their lives shifted.

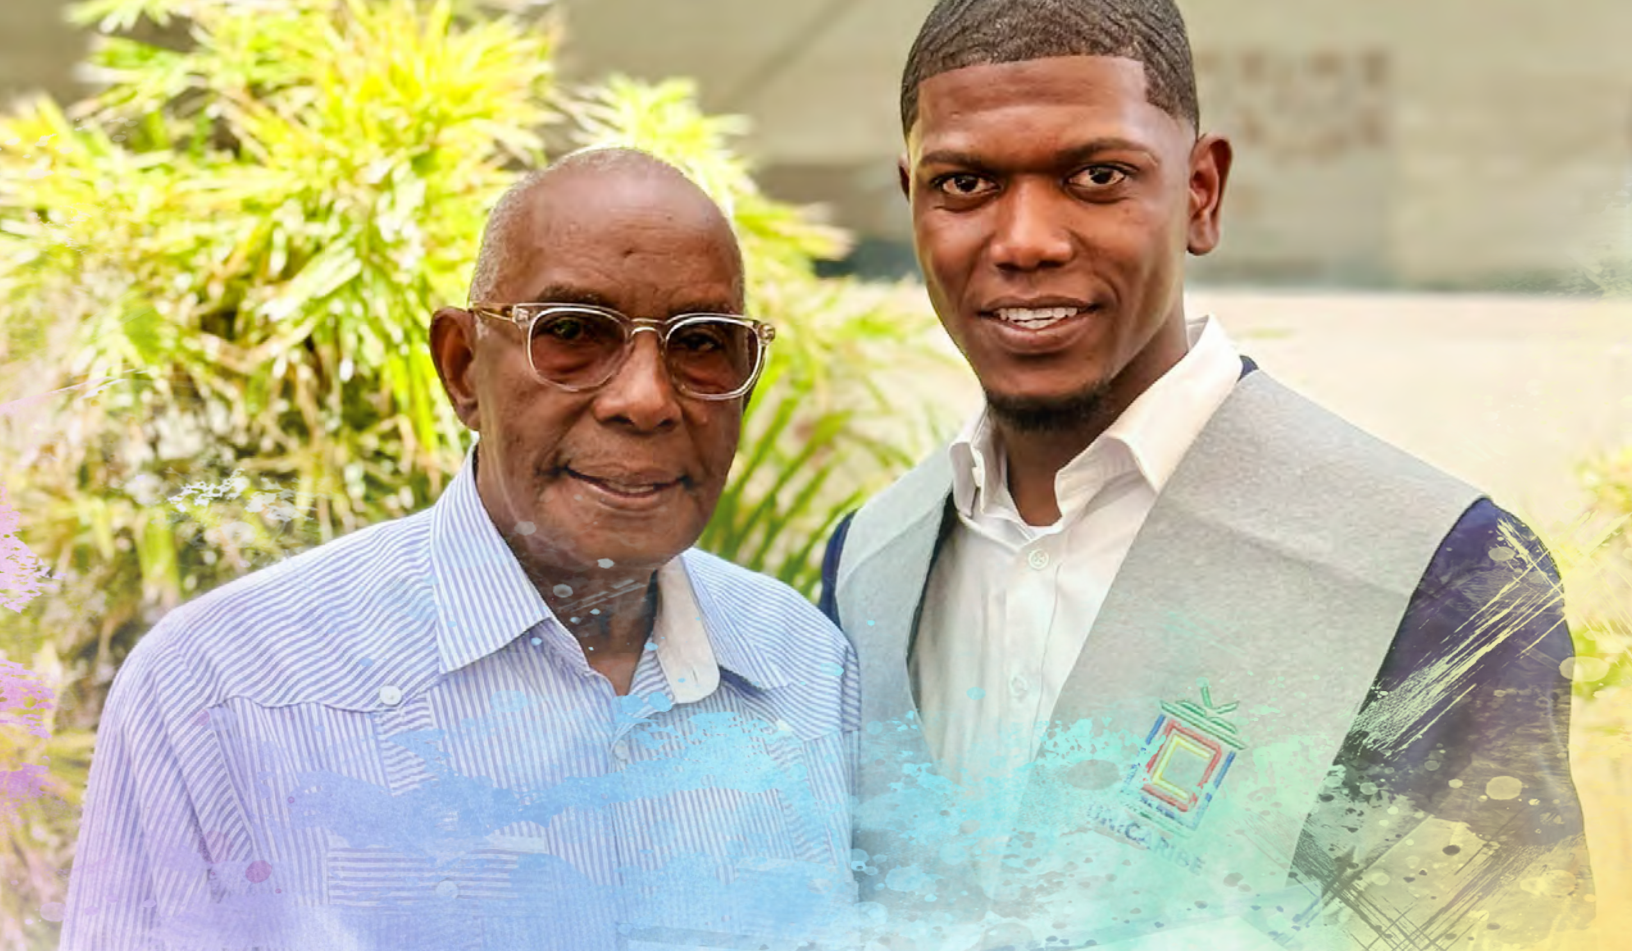

“Thanks to God’s perfect will,” Yale says, “[my brother and I] were able to arrive at Casa Monte Plata.”

From the start, he experienced something different. “I realized I was in a secure place. It was a different kind of happiness than I had known before. A clean happiness. An organized happiness. Something real.”

At Casa Monte Plata, Yale received consistent care, daily devotions, nutritious food, and the love of house parents. He was enrolled at Eva May Russell School, where his needs were met holistically—academic, physical, emotional, and spiritual.

The most powerful change came through God’s Word. “I used to hear about God at church, at school, at Casa Monte Plata,” Yale says. “When I was nine, I remember going into my room alone and praying for the first time. That was the moment I gave my life to Him.”

From then on, his life had a new direction. “God has been modifying and preparing my life for new things,” he explains. “Every stage brings a new challenge. I have to learn new things—and leave other things behind. But God is always working in the lives of His children.”

With support from Kids Alive, Yale pursued his dream of becoming a lawyer. A scholarship made it possible for him to attend university, and he moved into Casa Esther, the transition home where young adults prepare for independence. During the pandemic, when church services paused,

Yale even stepped up to lead devotions for the children at Casa Monte Plata. After years of perseverance, Yale graduated in March 2025 with a law degree. “I want to work with children’s cases,” he says. “I want to be a Christian example in the workforce.”

Reflecting on his journey, Yale doesn’t hesitate. “If it weren’t for Kids Alive—and through it, getting to know God—I would be lost. I’d be living for my own desires, in a completely disorganized life. But today, God gave me something real. And I want to give that love to others.”

Because of your support, Yale’s words are not just a testimony—they are a glimpse of the lasting transformation you help create. From grief to purpose, from fear to faith, your generosity helps children discover they are cherished, chosen, and created with hope for the future.

Across the Dominican Republic, children are finding safety, healing, education, and spiritual growth through Kids Alive's protective care programs, schools, and family ministries—where family strengthening, therapy, KAI values, and life skills training are central to the journey.

The school also welcomed Sienna, Park's first-ever social worker, whose role will strengthen connections between the school, families, and wider community. In addition, renovations were completed on the academic building and office spaces, revitalizing the campus and creating a more functional, welcoming space for students and staff alike.

BECAUSE OF YOU

Sana Found Healing and Hope in the Midst of Loss

Sana has grown up surrounded by the care of Kids Alive Haiti, enrolled since preschool and now preparing to enter seventh grade. Known for her kindness and helpful spirit, she has always been the one to look out for the younger children in her classroom.

*pseudonym for safety

But in April 2025, Sana's world was shaken by the tragic and sudden death of her father. Though her parents lived apart, she was very close to him—he was her role model. Learning of his death days later left her devastated. At school she could not stop crying, refused to speak, and withdrew into herself. She carried the heavy weight of grief alone, and her teachers worried she might collapse under it.

Thankfully, the Kids Alive Haiti team stepped in quickly. Her teacher and principal connected her with the school psychologist, who walked with her through her grief. Using psychoeducation, he helped her understand the process of loss. Through interpersonal therapy, Sana began to express herself and rebuild trust with others. And through art therapy, she found new ways to release her pain and finally rest at night. Over time, her depression symptoms eased and her joy began to return.

Today, Sana is smiling again. She successfully completed her final exams and is moving forward with a renewed sense of hope. "I feel much better now," she says, her smile a reflection of the healing that has taken place.

Because of your support, children like Sana receive the care, counseling, and encouragement they need to face even the most difficult challenges. You are helping children in Haiti know they are deeply loved, never alone, and filled with hope for the future.

I AM GOD'S Masterpiece

THROUGH CHRIST, YOU ARE NOT BROKEN—YOU ARE GOD'S MASTERPIECE.

With your support, children who once felt unwanted or unworthy are discovering they are intentionally created, deeply loved, and full of purpose. Every time you give, pray, or stand with Kids Alive, you help replace the lie of “damaged goods” with the truth of God’s divine craftsmanship. Together, we are reminding children they are made new in Christ to live out the good plans He has for their lives.

For we are God's masterpiece. He has created us anew in Christ Jesus, so we can do the good things he planned for us long ago.

BECAUSE OF YOU

Daniel and Mateo Found the Love of a Family

For Daniel* and Mateo*, childhood began with one of the deepest wounds a child can carry—their mother left and never came back. With different fathers who were never present, the boys were left without protection, stability, or the love of a family to walk with them as they grew.

The absence of their parents left deep scars. Daniel, the older brother, carried anger, sadness, and feelings of rejection. Mateo, still so young, felt the emptiness of life without a parent's embrace. Both desperately needed a safe place to heal and rediscover hope.

*pseudonym for safety

That's when Kids Alive Peru, through The Orchard Children's Home, stepped into their story. Here, they found more than food and shelter—they experienced education, emotional care, and the love of caregivers who reminded them they were not forgotten. Over time, they began to leave behind the wounds of abandonment and discovered that God could give them a new life filled with purpose.

In the midst of this journey, one person became their anchor: Mrs. Isabel Saboya. From the time the boys were young, she was their “mom at heart,” faithfully caring for them as if they were her own. Their deepest wish was to belong to her family. In letters full of honesty and tenderness, they wrote of their dream: “to belong to a home with her.”

In June 2025, that dream finally came true. Isabel and her husband Lucas welcomed Daniel and Mateo into their home, becoming “Mom Isabel” and “Dad Lucas.” It was more than gaining a roof over their heads—they gained a family. A place to belong. A home where they would never be alone again.

Today, the transformation is clear. Daniel, now 17, has completed high school and technical training and is preparing for higher education. Mateo is thriving in his first year of high school, full of excitement and security. Together, they now live with love, stability, and the certainty of a hopeful future.

Because of your support, children in Peru who once carried the pain of rejection are finding safety, love, and the unshakable truth that they are not forgotten. You are helping write new stories of family, faith, and purpose—stories like

Daniel and Mateo's.

I AM GOD'S Child

THROUGH CHRIST, YOU ARE NEVER FORGOTTEN—YOU BELONG TO THE FAMILY OF GOD.

For those who have faced abandonment, neglect, or rejection, the promise of belonging can feel out of reach. But your support helps children discover the life-changing truth that they are precious sons and daughters of a loving Father who delights in them. No longer defined by rejection, they are learning their worth is not based on performance or approval, but grounded in God's unconditional love.

Get to all who received Him, to those who believed in His name,
He gave the right to become children

BECAUSE OF YOU

Mia is Learning
She's Never Alone

At just 16 years old, Mia* has already walked through more hardship than most adults. Abandoned by her parents and passed between unsafe homes with sexual abuse, she grew up surrounded by instability, violence, and broken trust. Each move left new scars, and for years she carried the deep ache of loneliness. “Even though I am surrounded by many people, at night I feel alone,” she shared quietly with Kids Alive staff.

*pseudonym for safety

When Mia arrived at Oasis, Kids Alive Guatemala's protective care program for girls, she found something different—safety, stability, and people who truly listened. For the first time, she began to feel that her life could be rebuilt with hope. Through the care of her psychologist, mentors, and teachers, Mia started learning how to regulate her emotions, grow in confidence, and believe she had a future worth pursuing.

But the most powerful change has come spiritually. With encouragement from staff, Mia created her own devotional rhythm—time for praise, thanksgiving, prayer, and listening to God's Word. Slowly, her late-night loneliness began to give way to a new awareness of God's presence. "In each devotional I prepare, I feel God's closeness," she says.

Mia's growth hasn't stopped with her personal faith. Today, she is a leader. As part of Oasis's devotional leadership team, she helps plan and guide worship for the other girls. She has led worship on her own and even preached her first sermon—something she never would have imagined just a few years ago.

Instead of being defined by abandonment, Mia is stepping into her identity as God's beloved child. She is building a future filled with courage, faith, and leadership.

Because of your support, girls like Mia are discovering that they are never truly alone. They are safe, seen, and loved—by their community and by their Heavenly Father.
